

DOG BITE PREVENTION – SIGNS OF AN UNHAPPY DOG

Here are some ways a dog will "tell" you when it is not happy:

- The dog will lower its tail or tuck it down between its legs.
- The dog will move away from you.
- The dog will tuck its tail between its legs
- The dog will show its teeth (without growling).
- The dog will snarl at you AND show its teeth.
- The dog will lay its ears back.
- The dog will growl, but may not show you its teeth.
- The dog may throw its head around and snap at you without biting.
- The dog will crouch down like it is ready to jump.
- The dog will raise the hair on its back - it is called "raising its hackles".
